Rodger Friedman,
author/
The Equal Opportunity Critic

As Americans across the country go to the polls to select the presidential candidate of their choice, Rodger Friedman gives voice to how they feel, having earned a reputation as The Equal Opportunity Critic - willing to tackle the tough topics and reveal hidden truths.

Rodger Friedman, a former senior VP of Morgan Stanley wealth management, is a fiscally conservative, respected financial professional and proud member of the Sons of the American Legion, who sees America heading toward a one-party socialist future. Concerned about the direction of our country, Rodger is offering his insights, suggestions, and researched facts to interested audiences around the country.

The author of multiple books, he has extensive experience as a professional speaker. His book, Erasing America, is his passion project. He is an engaging, sought-after speaker for your next meeting or event.

What Others are Saying:

"Read and re-read this book and then send a copy to those you love, those you respect, fellow conservatives, and yes, send it to those whose opinions you dislike and those you distrust. Pray that their eyes and hearts will be open to remember the values and truths this country was built on and what it means to be FREE."
